THE DAISY

*Washington Irving High School
40 Irving Place, New York 3, New York
Miss Evelyn Konigsberg, Principal*

THE CLASS OF 1959

Our Fair Lady

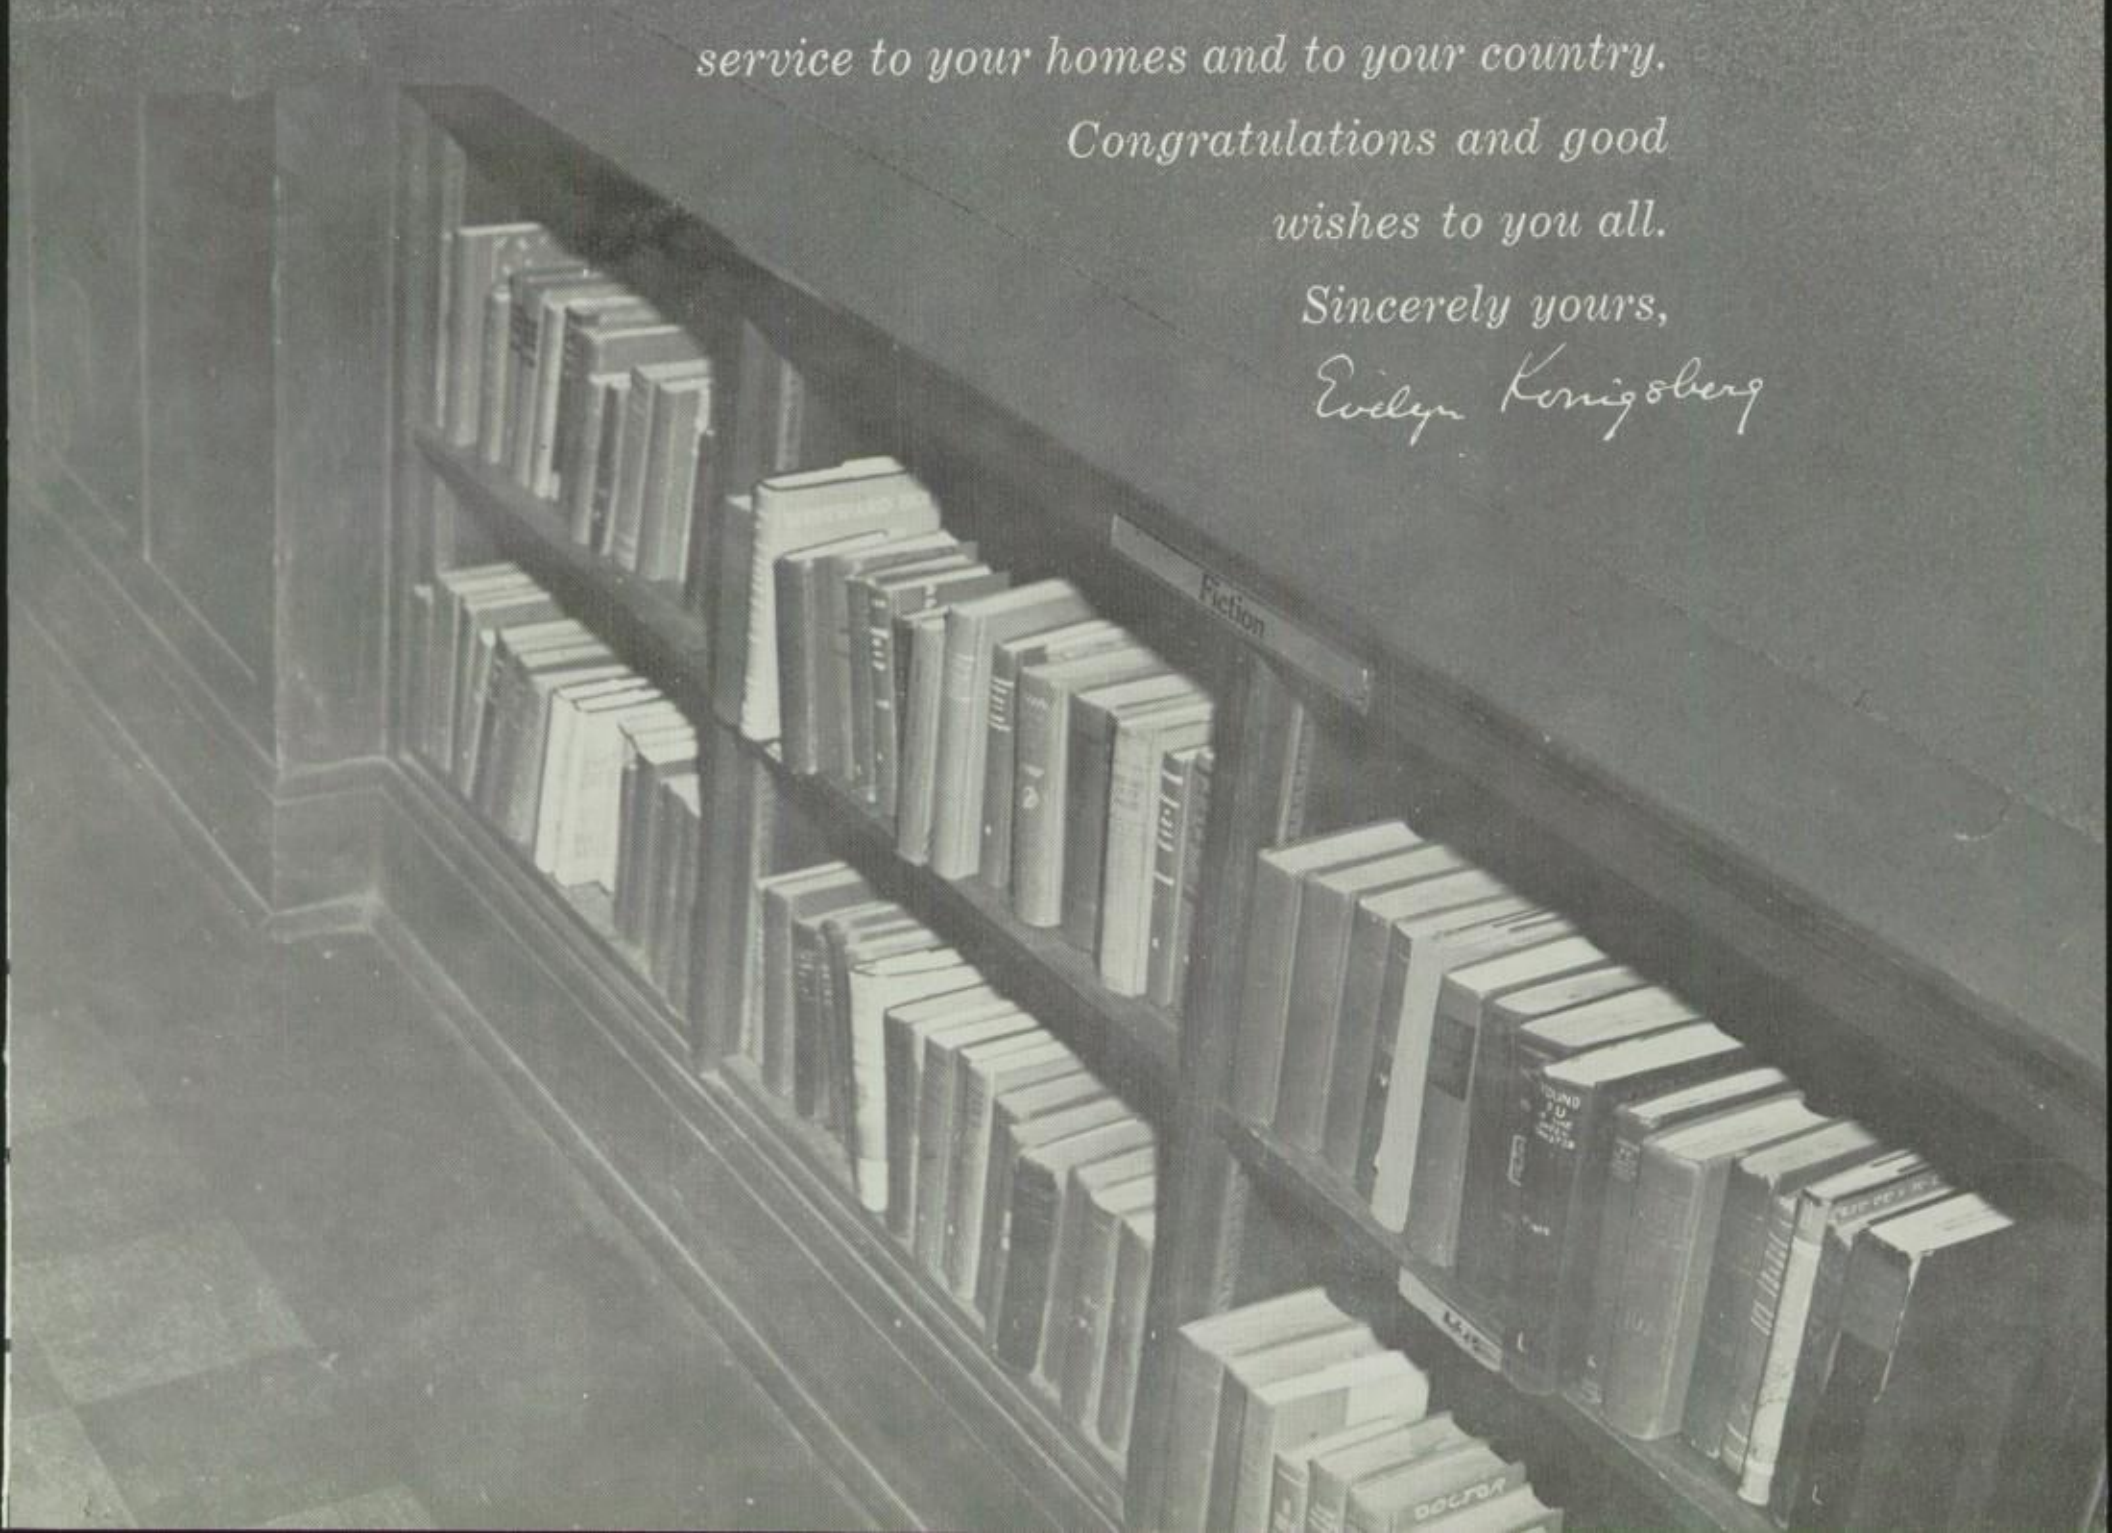

Dear Graduates of 1959:

*"All that mankind has done, thought, gained or been:
it is lying as in magic preservation in the pages of books." Your choice of literature as your yearbook theme reveals that you have learned one way to gain knowledge for yourself.
May the future bring you the happiness that comes from wise use of knowledge in service to your homes and to your country.*

Congratulations and good wishes to you all.

Sincerely yours,

Evelyn Konigsberg

PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISIES

*Now come the pages of varying girls,
Our Daisy Chain that's made of pearls.
Some may gain both fame and wealth
While others will merely have their health.*

*They were Innocent Freshmen in a school
Buying tickets to the twelfth floor pool.
They were Sophomore Sophisticates,
but never a chance*

*To find their way to an upper class dance.
Then Jaunty Juniors, careless and gay. . . .
One year to go! This year we'll play!
Senior Giants with head in the sky—
Shall we look to tomorrow or W.I.?*

*All of this we leave behind
Yet it's stored forever in our mind.
Memory, revived, held in this book.
And now, dear friend, let's take a look.*

THE LAST HURRAH

Since we have chosen to dedicate our yearbook to Literature, we cannot help but think as we reach our farewell: Volume I of the Book of Life is drawing to a close.

Nevertheless, farewell to W.I. is a hard phrase to accept. We have come to love and to cherish the instrument of our education and our happiness. No one can deny that we shall drop a tear while hearing the last strains of the "Washington Irving Marching Song" played. We shall think, sorrowfully, that never again as part of the student body shall we march to its rhythm.

W.I. itself, though, has taught us that the time spent in high school must be looked upon as a gradual progression toward the duties and responsibilities we must meet after graduation. Our teachers have led us to see that we must look to Volume II. A true farewell cannot be said without looking toward the future, a future in which we have pledged to include continued INDUSTRY, unquestionable INTEGRITY, and undiminishing INTELLIGENCE.

For excellence...
